

4 Benefits of Van Travel

Cover more ground

Vans are the best way to zip around quickly and travel under the radar. They fit almost anywhere and are usually well under the length limit that some national park roads require. While RVs certainly shine in the world of space and comfort, vans equally stand out in their ability to travel fast and light. With the ability to quickly cover large swaths of land, vans increase the striking distance of every vacation.

SAVE ON GAS!

A van uses far less fuel and can travel much faster than a Class C RV.

22 mpg

Over the course of a few road trips, the fuel savings can add up to a lot

GO INCOGNITO

Campgrounds in national parks can fill up fast. Vans allow you to park almost anywhere.

419 parks

Vans give you the ability to camp in or just outside of any national park.

DRIVE ANYWHERE

The United States BLM has over

7,000 miles

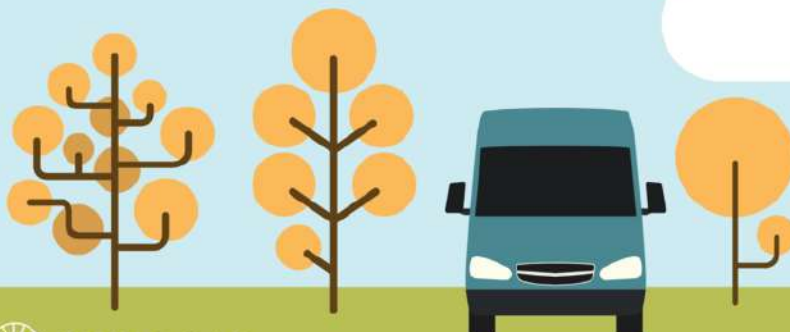

of road, paved and dirt. 4WD vans are short enough and capable enough to drive on over 95% of the roads.

LIVE LIGHTLY

Vans are much smaller than your average Class C RV and have about

1/2 the cubic ft

Vans force you to be thoughtful about what you pack and what you don't.
